

Parkland and the not-for-profit Halifax Humanities Society invite you to take your mind on a cruise this fall to a time you have always wanted to visit ...

THE MIDDLE AGES

CONFESSIONS | THE SONG OF ROLAND | DIVINE COMEDY

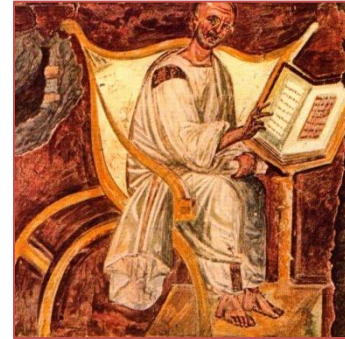

The HALIFAXTHINKS program of the HHS is offering a version of the MIDDLE AGES section of the famous King's Foundation Year Programme. This has been constructed by its faculty especially for adult learners.

This period connects Antiquity and Modernity. Its study – wonderful in itself enlightens both our future and our past. Join us to examine and delight in its greatest works as found in the texts, history, life, art and hopes of the time.

Pure learning – no papers, no exams, no marks. Discover the limitations of Rome, the origins of Christianity and the achievements of Islam. Learn about monasticism, feudalism, architecture, heaven and hell - and find out from no lesser a source than Dante why the era collapsed.

Expert guides. Lectures delivered both online and in hard copy. Lively bi-weekly live tutorials with the professors and your likeminded fellows.

The course runs from mid-September to mid-January. It costs $400. This supports the same curriculum in HalifaxHumanities101 for people on low incomes or who are otherwise barred from access to university education.

Augustine's Confessions

The Song of Roland - Anon

Dante's Divine Comedy

The HHS is a registered charity dedicate to barrier free education in the Humanities through HalifaxHumanities101 and HalifaxThinks. For schedules, reading lists etc, see www.HalifaxThinks.ca or contact Katie MacDonald